

Lulu, Sweet Beads and Spread the Bread

Present a special event for World Spread The Bread Day!!!

Celebrate BREAD, BEADS and BOOKS!

Please join us for a Breakfast Book Luau!!!

Saturday April 12, 2008 at 10 am at Sweet Beads in Wellesley Center

later in the day...

2:00 Story time at Wayland Starbucks on Main St.
Gretchan will read "Lulu Decorates Daddy" and sign books.

Enjoy some sweet breads and refreshments and meet children's author, Gretchan Pyne, as she celebrates the release of her second book, "Lulu Decorates Daddy"

The story is a tender memory of her angel daughter, Lulu, who lived her short and powerful life changing the way people look at the world. Lulu challenged everyone to find the goodness in her own Lulu way.

Gretchan is a dear friend of the bread-giving organization, Spread the Bread, that encourages the gifting of bread, wrapped in notes of hope, inspiration or gratitude to honor our heroes and help those in need. On this special day, the world will celebrate BREAD for others. So we ask that you bring a loaf of decorated bread and we'll spread some bead designs on the breads to be delivered to a local shelter for homeless families.

For more information, please visit: www.lulubellebooks.com,
www.spreadthebread.org, and www.sweetbeads.us